CHART
HOUSE
BOSTON

The pride of historic Long Wharf, Chart House Boston is renowned for its location and its menu. As the oldest surviving structure atop Long Wharf circa 1763—formerly John Hancock’s Counting House—the current waterfront restaurant is a fusion of history and modern style. The newly renovated interior, complete with Hancock’s own safe, is full of bold colors, a hopping happy hour, and the kind of creative seafood dishes that draw a crowd.
